

Program of the Intercultural Week in Erfurt from August 26th to October 30th, 2025

Dear people of Erfurt,
Dear guests of our state capital,

This year we are celebrating a special anniversary: for the 50th time, the nationwide Intercultural Week is calling people of different origins, cultures and religions together - under the powerful motto "for this!"

Since the early 1990s, our state capital Erfurt has also been a firm partner of this initiative. During this time, we have developed into a modern and diverse city - people from more than 145 nations currently live in Erfurt. They enrich our city life with new perspectives, cultures and customs.

"For this!" is more than just a motto - it is a clear commitment: for every single person, for cultural diversity, for respectful coexistence and a vibrant democracy. Especially in times of increasing division and exclusion, Intercultural Week sends a strong signal: We stand up for each other, we stand against racism and intolerance.

Erfurt offers a varied programme in September and October - almost 70 events organized by migrant associations, initiatives, religious communities and many committed people. They range from family celebrations and festivals to readings, interfaith services, panel discussions and theater performances - all of which invite people to join in, talk and exchange ideas.

On behalf of the entire city administration and all those involved, I cordially invite you to set an example for an open Erfurt based on solidarity. Join the conversation, experience diversity and discover common ground.

Kind regards

Andreas Horn
Mayor of the City of Erfurt
